Rationale:

The nation aims at increasing GDP, and strengthening health systems would complement the national goal by ensuring a healthy workforce.

Our country spends 5.2% of the GDP on health care. The share of public sector has increased from 0.9% to 1.2 % ('WHO Commission on Macro Economics and Health'). Increased investment public sector health care and community based health insurance will reduce over dependency on private sector, which forces people to spend out of their resources. As per the ICSSR / ICMR report, there is a need for increasing health budget and simultaneously build the capacity of the state to use the allocated budget efficiently in public health.

A detailed discussion on this could help policy makers and planners to move forward in the direction with substantial measures. The proposed International Conference on Health System Strengthening would provide platform for such discussion

The Process:

The need for organizing an International Conference emerged at the level of TNHSP and it was discussed among the partner organizations which related to TNHSP professionally.
